HEMORRHOIDS

I receive so many inquiries in regard to hemorrhoids that a sittle extra information on the subject would probably do some good. I know that this is an extremely common aliment, and any one who contemplates the great number of "pile cures" which are on the market and the large institutions devoted to special local treatment for the homorrhoids, will be quite ready to agree with me.

Poor people too often get a jolt merely because they are poor.

A few days ago, one of these unfortunates found himself unable to pay his rent.

The landford got a dispossess. The city marshal excuted the order and piled, furniture and belongings on the sidewalk.

That ended the marshal's duty.

He walked away to other duties.

"One moment, Monsieur," the man whom Patterson knew as La vert, the French tutor, stepped him. "May I humbly crave the honor of presenting two of my fellow countrymen, M. Dufresne had M. St. Pierre. My employer, M. Patterson, gentlemen, "he turned to his visitors.

The military gentlemen bowed, clicking their fieels together, Major Patterson grunted."

"Betsy? Ah, no—no!" Jome smiled, his dark eyes dreaming far away again. "She is like no one you have ever seen before." St. Pierre and Dufresne exchanged a quiet smile. "Fire and ice she ist Gracious and haughty! Sweet and imperious! Proud as the devil! She is like a queen—an empress! She was born to command—and all men to follow, like humble, unquestioning slaves. Ah, Glorious Betsy is perfection!"

"But you forget, sir, that you are the brother of the First Consul of France!" Dufresne interrupted the eulogy to the charms of the Baltimore Belle.

"Unfortunately, you will never allow me to forget that," Jerome ratorted, smiling. "I should be more than glad, if it were possible."

"However, it is not," Dufresne answered. "How soon can you be ready to start!"

"Gentlemen, please," Jerome shook his head. "Just this once—it will not matter—out of a lifetime. Just one hour—and then you shall command me as you will. For one hour permit me to be Monsieur La Vert, and I shall ask nothing more, I promise. I swear it."

CHAPTER VI

With quick steps Jerome sought the Patterson aulte. He hurried down the long hallway, but as he reached the door he paused and then slowly turned the big, brass handle of the double doors. He walked into the room with an outwardly unperturbed manner that belied his inner emotions. Betsy and Mary were seated in a corner of the room, surrounded by a group of laughing, admiring men. All eyes followed her every movement; all ears hung on her every word; all lips took their cue from her speaches. And Jerome waited, gazing, over the scene.

Sensing his presence, Betsy turned quickly. She looked at him for a moment, and then deliberately averted her head. She laughed and talked with eyen more volubility.

The Price of Safety

THE fire loss in the United States each year is in excess of half a billion dollars, and most of it is preventable. This astonishing waste is increased by the losses that occur from theft and other causes. Valuable possessions . . . stocks, bonds, photographs, heirlooms, jewelry, etc... are secure from fire and theft only when placed in a modern safe deposit vault. Safe deposit boxes in the vaults of the American Trust Company are fireproof and theft-proof. The small annual rental is trivial when compared to the protection they afford.

Running the gamut of human emotions, feeling aft the pangs of love, despair and woe, Miss Del Rio plays upon the heart strings of her audience. Her histrionic skill and gift of character delineation find opportunity for full expression in the romantic scenes, and in the deep, fine nuances of pathos and tragedy.

Warner Baxter plays "Alessandro," the Indian, with a romantic dash and realism. His portrayal of this difficult role is a highly commendable expression of dramatic art. Roland Drew, in the part of "Don Felipe," a young panish gentleman of wealth, gives a splendid performance that is human and sympathetic. Vera Lewis is the sinister menace of the story. In her dramatic scenes with Miss Del Rio, she makes Senora Moreno a grim figure.

There are five great dramatic climaxese in the picture—the romantic elopement of 'Ramona' with 'Alessandro', the tragic death of their baby, the most poignant scene ever screened; the wanton massacfe of defenseless Indians
by a band of outlaws; the cruei

beautiful restoration of 'Ramona'

Brilliant, glamorous, pictorial, scintillant with romantic charm, vibrant with dramatic tensity, dynamic in its emotional moments, poignant in its bitter tragedy—that is "Ramona," the United Artists photoplay presented last night at the California Theatre. "Ramona" is a screen triumph. Its continuity, direction, acting, photography and scenic vestment stamp it as one of the finest, most artistic pictures ever produced. It is the second offering of that brilliant trio—Edwin Carewe, the director, Dolores Del Rio, the star, and Finis Fox, the scenarist, Their first was Resurrection, the sensational film product of 1927. Plane Crash Is Fatal To Pair TETERBORO, N. J. May 9. Lieutenant Royal V. Thomas, U. S. Army reserve, and Vaughn Weatherly, Wright aeronautical engineer, crashed to instant death today at Teterboro Airport.

The accident occured when the Bellanca monoplane, the Reliance, in which Thomas recently set an unofficial solo endurance flight record, went into a barrel, spin and smashed up on the Teterboro Golf Club grounds.

Thomas and Weatherly, were making speed tests, flying low. Eyewitnesses declared the plane seemed to turn over sideways several times, and then collapse, striking the earth tail first.

The wings and fuselage of the plane were a tangled mass of wreckage. The propellor was broken in several pieces, and the motor had ploughed a long furrow in the ground.

Thomas was buried beneath, the shatered plane Weatherly's body was outside the debris. shatered plane Weatherly's was outside the debris.

Real Mokerume water praced in five gallon glass containers on the table was served to the diners as one of the luncheon features.

Harry J. Harding, president of the Licus' introduced Dr. George C. Pardee who gave a brief sketch of the Utility district's five years activity and presented Davis, who described how the Par-

Attention was called to the fact that the luncheon celebrated the fifth anniversary of the formation of the East Bay Municipal Utility district which occurred at a general election on May 8, 1923, and that progress has been made to the point where it is now known that water can be turned into the pipe line in January, 1930. After describing how the Francis dam went out because of faulty foundation, as discovered by himself in a personal investigation, Davis compared the Southern California structure with the one being built by the district on the Mekelume river and declar-ed that the Pardee dam stands or a foundation that can never be undermined or shaken.

Legion Post To Organize Band

A representative of a San Francisco music house will be present at the meeting tonight in Memorial hall of the American Legion post, to explain an efficient method of organizing a band. It is pointed out that the Hayward post, with a smaller membership than the local organization, has a Eand of 20 members.

The local post will furnish the firing squad for the water services to be held Sunday. May 27, and also for the Memoriah Day exercises. George S. Tandy will be in charge of the squad.

Members of the Richmond post are assisting in the drive for funds launched here by the Boy Scouts.

COST OF DAM

WASHINGTON, May. — The report to President Coolings that the Boulder Canyon Dam legislation would cost the Government an appropriation of $125,000,000 this year and thus reduce the chances for tax reduction was today branded as "a victous misrepresentation" by Representatives Phill Swing of California, coauthor of the bill.

The report had been made to the President by Representative Snell of New York, chairman of the House rules committee and for years on of the most stubborn opponents of the Swing-Johnson measure against which the power trust has raised a lot by fund of $40,000.

Snell said that legislative projects now in Congress total in excess of a billion collars of immediate appropriations which would defeat tax reduction, and he estimated the Boulder Canyon Dam bill at irom $125,00,000 to $250,000 00.

That is typical of the propagands which has been put out in diverse forms by the power trust," said Swing. He added:

It is absolutely without foundation.

The proposed great dam at The proposed great dam at Boulder Canyon would cost $41,090,000, and the construction of a generating plant would cost $31,000,000. The construction mignature of the present Congress, if it appropriated any money at all, would naturally limit its appropriation to one-seventh of the cost, oir a maximum of $10,000,000. But that does not tell half the story. The bill provides that not a spadeful of earth shall be curred at Boulder Canyon until the national government has it in its hands the contracts for the sale of water and water-power which would entirely compener which would entirely compensate the government.

Kamb took the mound for the Dougalls, walking one man, striking out two and allowing only six hits, DeLucci, twirled for the Santa Fes, and walked five men and struck ou. The Dougalls managed to seven hits off him.

Galdini got the only chalked up for the Santa Fes when in the sixth they showed an attempt to win the game by getting two hits. Up to this point, Kamb had no scores against him. Kamb tried hard to keep Gualdoni from scoring, but a his from Tamm did the works. Taylor knocked the only round trip in the same, clouting the ball through a hole in the right field fence. There'was plenty of good fielding on both teams, in fact, it was the fielding that held the scores down on both sides.

With the Santa Fes losing last night, the Sannies remain the only team- without a lost game against them. Tonight they meet the Maliks. El Cerrito won from the Sannies last Sunday so to night' game prom/ses plenty of action. The Maliks are out to win and the Sannies are anxious to overcome the defeat they suffered last Sunday.

An avalanche of par and birdies by Jack Gribbin spelled defeat for Bill Owsley in the top half of the semi-finals of the Championship Flight, of the President's Cup Tournament held last Sunday at the Contra Costa Golf Club. Gribbin's playing throughout the match sparkled with brilliancy, as is indicated by his 7 to 6 defeat of Bill Owsley, a player of nomean ability. Gribtin's golf has been of the first order, throughout the tournament, which, if continued, should annex the title of 1928 Club Champion. In the bottom half, George Aljian defeated Elwood O. Mitchell, 5 and 4.

In the second flight L. Schwartz defeated Henry Owsley 6 to 5 and L. Caldwell won from H. C. Wells, 4 to 2.

In the upper division of the third flight, Wade Moore of Pittsburg, shooting a 40 for the first nine holes, defeated Al, Aljets of Crockett 4 jand 2 and Dr. Ward won over Jack Cummings by default.

The fourth flight was the most extended, Arden Randall defeating Dr. O. A. Rose at the 20th hole.

and shut the door, were your baking cares finished? Or did you return and "peep" into the oven and go through a half-hour's mental strain?

The Oven Heat Control on the new Gas Range will take care of all your baking. Just turn the dial to the proper baking temperature. It keeps the oven heat right. For there's nothing so important in baking as the proper oven temperature.

That is why meats, pies, cakes and even a whole meal are more deliciously cooked in the new Gas Range equipped with the Oven Heat Control. Now is an opportune time to get a new Gas Range equipped with the Oven Heat Control.

Misg E. M. M. Hume, another scientist at the Lister Institute, who is working on the preolem of vitamins and their effect on animals and humans, maintainhat monkeys seldom live long in this country, unless they are especially supplied with vitamin D.

This may be done by giving them ultra violet light—artifical sunlight, to replace the sunshine of the tropics and by placing them on a special diet which is rich in vitamin D.

The vegetarian diet, which is enough for them in their natural surroundings, will not by itself
keep them well in this country.
But unformately monkeys often refuse to take milk or cod liver oil, which contain large quantities of the necessary vitamin, and ultra violet rays are therefore essential to them.
